ly before noon today, three young men succeeded in stealing $2,850 worth of Liberty bonds, using sticks to which were attached bits of chewing gum, to draw the bonds from the shelf behind the window.

They fished among packets of securities store on the shelf, deliberately taking their choice of the more valuable ones. They took a pack of twenty-one $50 bonds, three $100 bonds, one $500 bond and one $1,000 bond. They then walked quickly from the bank only a moment before the teller, Paul Purcell, returned to his cage. He immediately missed the bonds, but the men had left the bank and disappeared.

Miss Esther Adams, who was in the bank at the time, said she watched the young men draw the bonds from the cage, but feared to cry out, not knowing whether they were armed.
